SBDC, UAH to Host Workshop on "Starting a Business in Alabama"

The Small Business Development Center and UAH will host a two-hour "Starting a Business in Alabama" workshop on Wednesday, January 8, 2025, via Zoom.

Register online to secure your spot: <https://asbdc.ecenterdirect.com/events/10191>

This workshop will provide participants with a comprehensive overview of the steps required and recommended for starting a small business in the State of Alabama, with a primary focus on businesses in Madison, Limestone, Morgan, Marshall, Jackson, Cullman, and Dekalb counties.

The following topic areas will be covered: a business start-up checklist; reserving a company name; pros and cons of optional legal structures; getting a tax number; business taxes; and state and licensing requirements. Furthermore, this workshop will touch on the importance of resource partners such as business attorneys, bankers, outside accountants, and insurance agents. Participants will also receive handouts and workshop takeaways.

Zoom link will be received the day before the webinar.

AAMU Reaffirmed by SACSCOC

Alabama A&M University's (AAMU) institutional accreditation was reaffirmed by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges

(SACSCOC) at the recent SACSCOC Annual Meeting in Austin, Texas, on December 10. The university completed the approximate 36-month process to include a compliance report, off-site and on-site peer reviews to gain this favorable decision.

The delegation of administrators attending the meeting included Dr. Daniel K. Wims, president;

Dr. John D. Jones, provost; Carlton Spellman, CFO; Dr. Rhonda Moore Jackson, accreditation liaison; Dr. Jeanette Jones, Faculty Senate president; Dr. Bonnie Banks, QEP director; and Dr. Tau Kadhi, dean of graduate studies.

"We are grateful to the Commission and peer reviewers as we do not take a positive outcome for granted," said Wims.

AAMU Celebrates 149th Commencement During Fall 2024 Ceremony

Alabama A&M University celebrated its 149th Commencement Ceremony on Friday, December 13. The University awarded 365 degrees as 119 graduate students and 246 undergraduates completed academic chapters on The Hill.

Huntsville City Council Member Michelle Watkins (above), who recently achieved the historic milestone of becoming the first Black women elected to the Huntsville City Council, delivered the commencement address. The two-time alumna and management and program analyst for the U.S. Army Garrison at Redstone Arsenal had the crowd cheering seconds into her address.

“One of the greatest lessons I learned here at Alabama A&M University was confidence, the belief in my abilities, the knowledge to back it up and the determination to never give up.”

Watkins emphasized the University’s motto, “Service is Sovereignty,” urging graduates to lead with integrity. “True leadership demands tough choices,” Watkins explained. “You will have to make decisions that are not popular, but leadership is about making those choices with honesty and prioritizing the greater good.”

Watkins also challenged graduates to be good Normalites. “The best way to be a good Normalite is to be a good person,” she said. “When you go the grocery store, be a good Normalite. When you go to your mailbox and see your neighbor speak, be a good Normalite, and while you’re at that mailbox, mail that check to Alabama A&M University.

Council Meetings

Huntsville City Council’s regular meetings are held on the 1st floor of the Municipal Building on the 2nd and 4th Thursday of each month at 5:30 p.m.

There is nothing average about being a Normalite. We are extraordinary. Class of 2024, as you depart this illustrious University, one that I love dearly, I ask you to leave with a determined spirit, a resilient mind and a desire for humility. Always remember, to whom much is given, much is required.”

President Daniel K. Wims then shared highlights of the Fall Class of 2024:

- 75 first-generation college graduates

- Two ROTC Cadets were commissioned
- 58% female and 42% male
- 50% of graduates secured employment
- 20% will continue their education
- 12% report a salary of $70,000 or more
- The highest salary offer is $152,000
- 147 students graduated with honors
- Highest GPA: Arissa Tenise Nolley - 4.0 GPA in civil engineering

- Oldest graduate: liberal studies major Allen Ray Brooks, 60
- 10 students are second-generation AAMU graduates
- Two students are third-generation AAMU graduates.
- The University also awarded an Honorary Master of Arts degree to Mr. Arthur Seaton, II for his exceptional contributions to the City of Huntsville.

150th Torchbearer Reception for Alma Mater a Success!

I extend my deepest gratitude to each and every one of you who attended last Friday's Torch Bearer's Reception and helped make it a resounding success. Thanks to your generosity and commitment, we raised an incredible $50,000 for Alabama A&M University—far surpassing our established goal of $25,000!

Your support will make a transformative impact on the future of the university, and I'm truly grateful for your role in this milestone. Together, we're helping shape a brighter future for A&M through campus projects and vital student support.

It was an inspiring evening as we celebrated the university's rich history, honored the legacy of Dr. William Hooper Council, and officially launched the 150th Anniversary Campaign. I'm excited to see where this journey takes us, and I couldn't be more thankful to have you alongside us in this important work.

Warmest thanks again for your presence, your generosity, and your commitment to Alabama A&M University's continued success.

Until next week, happy holidays to you and yours.

Dorothy

DECEMBER 20 - DE-AARON FOX - De'Aaron Fox is an American professional basketball player for the Sacramento Kings of the National Basketball Association (NBA). On June 22, 2017, Fox was selected with the fifth overall pick in the 2017 NBA draft by the Sacramento Kings. On January 25th, 2018, Fox scored 14 points, 4 assist and a putback Slam Dunk with 3.3 seconds left giving the Sacramento Kings the lead in a 89-88 win over the Miami Heat. On January 28th, 2018, Fox scored a season-high 26 points, going 6-6 from three-point range in a 15 point loss to the San Antonio Spurs. On February 14, Fox was named Lonzo Ball's replacement for the Rising Stars Challenge. In his second season, on November 1, 2018, during a 146-115 win over the Atlanta Hawks, Fox notched his first career triple-double with 31 points, 10 rebounds, and 15 assists. - BlackCelebrityBirthdays.org

Spiritual Game Plan

PRESTON BROWN'S

Today's Spiritual Game Plan:

"A Marriage That Works"

First Corinthians 13:4-6 says, "Love is patient, love is kind, it does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud, it is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, and it keeps no record of wrongs."

There is a quote from a famous movie that says, "You complete me".

Now this sounds very endearing. But we have to remember that only God can complete us. In other words, we can't put that much responsibility on the person that we love. Because in the long run it ends up being too much for someone to bear. Now I bring this up to say, if you are going to get married, you have to be prepared to go to work, because it takes work to make a marriage successful.

For example, some people may say, "My marriage is not working," but perhaps this is because they are not working on their marriage. In fact, if some people approached their job the same way they approached their marriage, they would not even have a job. Sometimes, marriage is not pretty like a picture—it needs work. Even when things are going well, it still requires work. So many people go into marriage thinking about what they can get out of it. But when you do this, you miss the point of "giving yourself away." So many people want the "gift" of a relationship without the giving that is required in a relationship. Remember, marriage is the best thing, but it's not the easiest thing. So, if we understand this and we understand that only God can complete us, then we will be blessed in our marriages and live happily ever after.

Prayer: Loving Father, help us to continue to work on our relationships the same way we work on anything that we love in life.
Question: What are some things that you do that help your marriage work? Happy Holidays!

REMEMBER: Trump Is Not the Enemy - Just a Mirror!

"For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities against powers; against the rulers of the darkness of this world; against spiritual wickedness in high places." -Ephesians 6:12

Whether in or out of the White House, Donald Trump remains the most influential person on the planet. Challenge me.

Since his first term, virtually every news event - Russia's invading Ukraine, Supreme Court rulings, and inflamed racial injustice, for example - bore his influential thumbprint.

But despite his vitriol and our "Trump-xhaustion," this now two-time president-elect is not our main enemy, as the Apostle Paul noted in the opening Bible text.

Here, Paul reminded the Ephesians that their true enemy was not human but Satan, the spiritual being.

For many, Trump is merely a Satan avatar - just like you. And me, quite honestly.

At best, Trump is an eight-year wide-screen TV, whose reflection mirrors our own shortcomings that we need to acknowledge and correct. Now.

Quiz: Take the "Trump-in-You" Challenge, . . .

True, we enjoy gang-tackling "45/47" for his thinly-veiled racism, sexism, and nativism.

Even if our criticism of him is justified, however, we also need to first ask ourselves:

1. We rail against Trump for promising to deport and separate children from their immigrant parents, . . . but do your and my words and actions similarly dismantle families - starting with our own immediate households?
2. We decry Trump's well-documented misstatements, . . . but how often do you and I knowingly fail to be forthright and truthful? How often do we offer incomplete information, when transparency is what's needed? How often do we remain mum and withhold vital fill-in-the-blank facts - the withholding of which we employ as a tool for control? And
3. Yes, we were angered by Trump's un-confessed and vilifying statements of racial, ethnic, gender and class discrimination, . . . yet can you and I accept Jesus' challenge of John 8:1-12, to the men accusing the woman caught in adultery and demanding that she be stoned to death, when He asked.

"So when they continued asking him, He lifted up himself, and said unto them, 'He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.'" John 8:7?

. . . And a God Do-over!

If like me, you're 0 for 5 with those in-your-face questions, let's look now and forever at our own mirror reflections; and then, apply God's do-over: daily Bible reading and prayer.

Trust me, it works best when applied daily, . . .

Millennial Moment

by Gloria B. Caldwell

The Pain ...

Pain, it's something you will never escape. It's coming for you one way or another. Sometimes you get to choose it, sometimes you don't. But what is so wonderful is you can choose the pain of Success, or opt out for the pain of Failure. Your choice! I mean, if you're going to have it, you may as well get something out of it, correct?

So, how do we do that? It's not a hard thing to reason through, but most things aren't hard to "think" through. Action is where the magic is. The action is the place where change happens. It's the place where resilience is built. Strength is obtained. Mindset is shifted. It resides right there. . .in the action.

There are going to be moments of failure, but if you "get back up on that horse," with the tools you have gained through failure and maneuver through again, dodging the mistakes you made previously, you will create a path to success. You will develop a new way of doing things. You can gain determination and an ability to focus. You can develop discipline and fearlessness. You can allow your pain to set you up to obtain some things you have never had the ability to dream up!

Isn't that just magnificent? Pain can do all of that!

God loves you, and so do I.

He has given you a gift; open it.

Rosetta James Foundation "Spotlight on Our Elders" ... Featuring

Mrs. Willie Mae Draper

Mother Willie Mae Draper was born November 25, 1923, in Madison County to the Late Mr. Henry Lee Miller and Mrs. Pearlina Binford Miller. During early childhood, she contracted the "fatal" disease diphtheria, but through the faith and continuous prayers of her mother, God miraculously healed her. This divine intervention became the foundation upon which Mother Draper's built her life.

In 1950, Mother Draper, under the ministry of Elder S. H. Netter, was saved and filled with the Holy Ghost. God saved her husband and called him to the ministry and in 1963 Elder Draper became the Pastor of the New Market COGIC, later the Beirne Avenue COGIC. Pastor Draper and Mother Draper served until his death in 1998.

Mother Draper's most noted dates, appointments, and honors are: 1985-present, President, State Hospitality Department, appointed by the late Bishop C. H. Ashworth

Alabama State Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction I; and, in 1990, international missionary work in Schweinfurt, Germany and across northern Germany on a 21-day sojourn filled with teaching and evangelizing.

Mother Draper served as an Alabama delegate to the National Women's Convention of the International Church of God in Christ for 35-plus years faithfully. In 2002, she traveled to Oahu, Hawaii, where the Lord used her to witness to souls.

She is the proud mother of three children—Betty Damper, Pastor Dave Draper, Jr., and Pastor Jesse Draper—and she is a beloved grand- and great-grandmother. Mother Draper possesses a saintly nature which is the mark of a Godly woman. She is celebrated for her quiet dignity, labor of love, and Godly advice. Mother Draper stands tall as a virtuous role model in her church, in her family, and in her community.

Kevin Hart Set to Entertain Huntsvillians This Spring at The Orion

The legendary comedian Kevin Hart will appear at The Orion in Huntsville on Friday, April 11, 2025, at 8:15 p.m.

The Emmy and Grammy-nominated comedian was born and raised in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where he launched his career as a comedian during an amateur night at a local comedy club.

Over the years Hart has become Hollywood's box office powerhouse, opening eleven films at number one at the box office and grossing more than in $4.23 billion global revenue. Hart has also become a successful Entrepreneur; he is chairman of Hartbeat; a global, multi-platform media company creating entertainment at the intersection of comedy and culture with a mission to keep the world laughing together. The next generation media company unites Hartbeat Productions' best-in-class TV and film production capabilities with Laugh Out Loud's expansive distribution network, along with its marketing, sales, experiential, branded content, digital and social capabilities.

Hart is also the founder of HartBeat Ventures. Together, these companies play an integral role part in building Hart's ecosystem for extraordinary growth and creativity. Hart continues to develop, star, and produce feature films, television, and podcasts via Hartbeat for his various partners which include Netflix, Peacock, Sirius XM and Audible. Hart is currently touring internationally with his eighth hour of stand-up material; the tour is titled "The Reality Check" Tour. In 2020 Hart released his seventh hour long stand-up special, "Zero Fu*k's Given," which quickly became Netflix's biggest stand-up special of 2020 and earned him a Grammy nomination for "Best Comedy Album". Hart also earned Emmy nominations for "Die Hart," for "Outstanding Actor in a Short Form Comedy or Drama Series" along with an Emmy nomination for his Docu-series, "Don't F*k This Up". Kevin is a New York Times Best Selling author twice over and his first Audible original, "The Decision," was nominated for an Audie award for "Best Original Audiobook in 2021." Kevin is a founding partner in two companies: the premium tequila brand Gran Coramino, and plant based quick serve restaurant Hart House. Kevin's brand partnerships include Sam's Club, Audemars Piguet, Fabletics Men, Chase J.P Morgan, Draft Kings, Hydrow, NutraBolt, Brüush, Tommy John and Therabody.

This event will be a phone-free experience. Use of phones, smart watches and accessories, will not be permitted in the performance space.

Upon arrival at the

Notes of a Native Son: GENERATING LIGHT

by afroblastik [John 'Jahni' Moore]

Some time ago, I traveled to see a Thornton Dial art exhibit. Although Thornton Dial has transitioned, his work lives on as a beacon of his presence here on the planet. As a fellow Alabama artist, I am inspired by his journey. Included on the panel discussion was Lonnie Holley, another southern artist I deeply admire.

It's very important for me and my practice to seek out those whose work/life have shaped my creative journey and pushed my vision forward. As I stepped up in line and began to speak with Lonnie, I noticed another young man waiting eagerly. Lonnie continued on and conversed with me longer than any of the others before. Having been in the position of one who has stood in the space of waiting and of greeting, I wanted to be respectful of both positions.

Not wanting to take up much more than my share of his time, I decided to step back and give the waiting young man his turn. He stepped up directly to me still smiling. With an animated look of controlled excitement on his face he said, reaching out his hand, "I was waiting to meet you."

I was a bit surprised to say the least. It felt like time paused for a moment. I had come to seek wisdom and inspiration from someone I looked up to, only to be reminded that I too, am a light for someone else.

The moment revealed to me an ever present truth: we are all torches in someone's darkness, a lamp in another's searching, or simple a light along their pathway. While we are busy seeking illumination to guide our own path, we are generating light that illuminates the paths of others. It's humbling to think about the ripple effect of our actions. Every brushstroke, every step forward or back, every story we tell holds the potential to inspire someone we may never meet. Whether you're an artist, a teacher, a parent, or simply a person striving to grow, your journey is leaving trails of light for others to follow.

I believe this is what creativity and ultimately humanity are about—connection. We are a collective constellation, each star adding brilliance to the night sky.

The world doesn't just need one blazing sun; it needs the combined glow of every light bearer sharing their radiance. Keep shining, I say. Keep creating. Keep living authentically or at least pushing toward it. You never know who might be waiting to meet you, or who might already be watching and drawing strength from your light. We are all part of this dynamic, magnanimous, cosmic exchange of inspiration. When we create and share, we generate light—not just for ourselves, but for a world so in need of it.
